

SUMMER READING ASSIGNMENT 2015

ALL INCOMING 8TH GRADERS

Choose one book from the list of books and authors to read over the summer. You will take a test on the book when you return to school in the fall. A copy of the test questions is available with this handout and on the school website. You may use the book on the test if you bring it in on the scheduled day, but you may not use any notes or other written material. Your English teacher will tell you the exact day of your summer reading assessment sometime during the first week of school.

Since Little Sister refuses to talk, Willa Jo has to try and make things right in their new home, but she can't stop missing her mother or the life the four of them had before Baby died.

Winter Town—Stephen Edmond

Every winter, straight-laced, Ivy League bound Evan looks forward to a visit from Lucy, a childhood pal who moved away after her parent's divorce. But when Lucy arrives this year, she's changed. The former "girl next door" now has chopped dyed black hair, a nose stud, and a scowl. But Evan knows that somewhere beneath the Goth, "Old Lucy" still exists, and he's determined to find her... even if it means angering her.

After Tupac and D Foster—Jacqueline Woodson

“Everyone’s got a purpose and it’s just that they gotta figure out what it is and then go have it. ”That’s what D says anyway. D Foster is the girl who shows up on their block one day at the end of summer. She says she got off the bus in Queens because she liked the way the trees looked. That’s the type of girl she is. She’s also a roamer, roaming all over the place. Neeka and the unnamed narrator learn very quickly that D has something they don’t have, something they’re jealous for --- freedom.

Jacob Have I Loved—Katherine Paterson

The novel follows the story of the Bradshaws, a family who depends on the father, Truitt Bradshaw, and his crabbing/fishing business on his boat, the Portia Sue. Truitt's two daughters, Sara Louise and Caroline, are twins, and Caroline has always been the favorite. She is prettier and more talented, and better at receiving more attention not only from their parents but also from others in the community. The book traces Louise's attempts to free herself from Caroline's shadow, even as she grows into ad

Never Trust a Dead Man—Vivian Vande Velde

Selwyn is brokenhearted when the beautiful Anora chooses to marry the awful-but-rich Farold. It's bad enough when Farold beats him up in front of the villagers, but nothing prepares him for when Farold is found murdered. All accusing fingers point to Selwyn, who is promptly sealed in a burial cave with Farold's corpse. But they're not alone in the cave

Was Superman a Spy?—Brian Cronin

Was Superman a Spy? is a book based on a weekly column called "Comic Book Urban Legends Revealed" that appears over at Comic Book Resources every Friday morning. Each column, Brian Cronin answers three reader questions about something that they maybe heard this one time from a friend. Cronin determines whether the rumor is true or false, and then explains the history behind the rumor.

The Day They Came to Arrest the Book—Nat Hentoff

Who would have believed that The Adventure of Huckleberry Finn could cause the worst crisis in the history of George Mason High School? Certainly not Barney Roth, editor of the school paper. But when a small but vocal group of students and parents decide that the book is racist, sexist, and immoral--and should be removed from reading lists and the school library--Barney takes matters into his own hands. When the Huck Finn issue comes up for a hearing, Barney decides to print his story about previous censorship efforts at school. He's sure that investigative reporting and publicity can help the cause. But is he too late to turn the tide of censorship?

The Zookeeper's Wife—Diane Ackerman

When Germany invaded Poland, Stuka bombers devastated Warsaw—and the city's zoo along with it. With most of their animals dead, zookeepers Jan and Antonina Zabinski began smuggling Jews into empty cages. Another dozen "guests" hid inside the Zabinskis' villa, emerging after dark for dinner, socializing, and, during rare moments of calm, piano concerts. Jan, active in the Polish resistance, kept ammunition buried in the elephant enclosure and stashed explosives in the animal hospital. Meanwhile, Antonina kept her unusual household afloat, caring for both its human and its animal inhabitants—otters, a badger, hyena pups, lynxes.
